Town Council To File Court Suit To Collect $5,204 From Authority

Gettysburg borough council Tuesday evening directed its solicitor, Attorney Donald G. Oyer, to bring suit in Adams County court against the Gettysburg Municipal Authority over a $5,204 digging permit bill.

Discussion at the meeting of council in the engine house on E. Middle St. showed the bill was based on the opening of Springs Ave. from W. Confederate Ave. to Hay St. in 1961 to permit the placing of a sewer line from Woodcrest development along the Fairfield Rd. in Cumberland Twp.

OLD DWELLING ON E. HIGH ST. IS CONDEMNED

The owners of the Annie Wible home on E. High St. have been ordered to either tear down or rebuild the structure within 60 days, Building Official Charles E. Kuhn notified borough council in his report for August, filed at council's meeting Tuesday night in the engine house.

Kuhn said the owners were notified by him by registered letter August 27 that the building was "condemned as unsafe." He said Miss Wible owns 5/12 of the property; her nephew, John Wible, Hanover, owns 1/12 and the other half interest is held by Dr. James Sheen and the Presbyterian Church.

DONE BY CONTRACTOR

The borough solicitor said the $5,204 charge was based upon the town's ordinance which provides a cost of $7.50 per square yard generally for digging permits for the type of paving on Springs Ave. The ordinance also provides that the borough must give due notice to the utilities before beginning any repaving or new paving of streets to permit the utilities to make such changes in their lines as needed before the new paving is put down. It then provides that digging permits will be charged at twice the regular rate if made within a year after the placing of new paving, for payment of a lower penalty the next year, and so on down until the permit charge returns to the regular cost five years after the new paving is placed. The Woodcrest sewer, he said, was placed within about six months after Springs Ave. was repaved.

The Municipal Authority held that Woodcrest should pay the digging permit, Attorney Oyer said, because the work was carried out by a contractor for Woodcrest rather than by Municipal Authority. The Municipal Authority also alleges that if the water

HISTORIANS SEE RESTORED BURIAL PLOTS

Members of the Adams County Historical Society Tuesday evening visited the northern and southern Low Dutch cemeteries, both of which have been restored in the last 18 months under the direction of the society's committee on neglected cemeteries.

About 25 society members and guests made the tour with the society president, Dr. Charles Glatfelter and the committee chairman, Miss Ruth McIlhenny, leading the motorcade first to the southern cemetery in Mt. Pleasant Twp. on the John B. Keith farm between the Hanover and Littlestown Rds. along the Low Dutch Rd.

There Miss Beryl F. MacPherson, county historian and historical writer for The Gettysburg Times, told of the old cemetery's history.

Arthur Weaver, R. 6, a member of Miss McIlhenny's committee, who was in charge of the restoration work, told of the cleanup and restoration work done with donated funds, materials and services.

Miss MacPherson said the Low Dutch settlement in the county was in the general form of a crescent with a burial ground at the southern end and a church and burial ground at the northern end. It was those two cemeteries the historians visited between showers Tuesday evening.

The southern cemetery, the younger and much smaller of the two, includes the grave of a Revolutionary War soldier.

JAYCEES GIVE TOWN COUNCIL SURVEY DATA

Gettysburg residents who answered the questionnaire put to them by the Junior Chamber of Commerce found more things satisfactory in the community than unsatisfactory, according to a report on the survey made to borough council Tuesday evening by Anthony Delzinger, chairman of the survey for the Jaycees.

The Junior Chamber presented the questionnaire on community attitudes to 500 residents of the town. Delzinger said the committee was "somewhat disappointed" when only 260 answered the questions: "We had hoped for a survey covering 70 per cent of the town's population, but we have only a 10 per cent sample."

He said his committee will continue its study after residents of the town have had an opportunity to study the results "and will make a report and recommendations to council later."

Fifty questions were to be answered by "very good," "adequate," "inadequate" or "don't know." In addition there were four essay questions concerning what the people liked or didn't like about the town.

COUNCIL OKAYS COLLEGE PLAN FOR ELECTRIC SERVICE LINES

Gettysburg College Tuesday evening received approval from the borough to set up its own electric power distribution system.

The approval took the form of an ordinance passed at Monday evening's meeting of council in the engine house, E. Middle St., which permits the college, as well as the electric and telephone companies, to place poles and run wires along the streets.

At a prior meeting of the council, when the ordinance was asked, College Business Manager Stanley Hoffman said the college plans to buy the poles and wire for providing electric power to the college buildings and then will buy power from Metropolitan Edison to energize the lines. Such an arrangement, he said, will affect a considerable saving to the college for electric power in comparison to the present system by which the utility provides the poles, wires, etc., and provides current to the college at a number of places through many meters.

AWARD STREET CONTRACT

Since the college-owned power lines will provide street lighting at a number of spots in the college area, the ordinance contains provision that the borough can direct the placing or removal of street lights and the increase or decrease of power as may be required from time to time by the council's street light committee. The purchase of the transmission lines and poles affects only those serving the college, it was noted. Private homes in the area will continue to be served by Metropolitan Edison.

Gettysburg Asphalt was awarded the contract for placing asphalt on the new base constructed for S. Washington St. from W. Middle St. to the Warner Hospital entrance. The local company bid $6.25 per ton for asphalt and $10 per hour for the paver and operator. Alstare, Hanover, bid $6.50 per ton and $12.50 per hour for the paver and operator. In accepting the bid the borough directed that a state inspector be secured to check that the material will be up to state requirements.

WALLACE MAKES SEGREGATION FIGHT WHILE REST OF NATION QUIETLY DROPS RACE BARRIER

By DON MCKEE
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace apparently headed today for a new segregation showdown at three public schools here despite hands-off appeals by local authorities and warning from the federal government.

Wallace's plans were secret. But he sent hundreds of state troopers into this steel city despite an unprecedented request by the City Council to keep his forces out.

The Justice Department said in Washington: "The schools will be opened and the Negro students will attend them."

STATE TROOPERS

Wallace put state troopers in Tuskegee Monday to bar opening of the school which was to accept 13 Negroes.

He has not indicated whether he will halt the opening of Mobile schools where officials laid secret plans for registering two Negroes today at Murphy High.

Fairgrounds "Dry As Bone"

"Dry as a bone." That was the report today from the South Mountain Fairgrounds concerning the condition of the grounds following Tuesday evening's heavy rain.

Vice President W. Clayton Jester at noon today reported that the grounds are "as dry as a bone — there's not a damp spot anywhere, and everything is in readiness for tonight."

The rain north of here gave the McKinley Rodeo a "bad time" as it drove from an engagement at the New York State Fair at Syracuse, but all of its equipment had arrived by noon today and the rodeo will be ready for its premier performance tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Women of the Moose held the annual Eastern States conference at the Penn-Harris Hotel, day. The coronation pageant was held Saturday evening and the queen of sponsors, who brought in the largest number of members during the year, was Mrs. Florence Irion, Williamsport. No local members were in the queen's court this year. The ritualistic ceremony was held Sunday with 40 chapters represented and 236 co-workers. The speakers were J. Jack Stair, regional director of Pennsylvania; George Aiken, regional director of Maryland, and Marie Holde, Hagerstown, grand regent. The five top chapters of eastern Pennsylvania participating in the ritual were Chambersburg, Bloomsburg, Williamsport, Pottsville and Lock Haven. Local chapter members attending were Mrs. Virginia Lawver, past president of the College of Regents; Mrs. Martha McClellan, senior regent, and Mrs. Bess Kapp, an escort to the senior regent. Other members attended the various meetings.

Some of the money orders contained messages. Benningfield said he was told to disregard the messages, that they were sent only to prevent "too many people" from knowing about the transaction. The message, concerning payment of percentages and advances to salesmen, were to "keep others from knowing" about the club purchase. Benningfield said he was told.

MADE FALSE ENTRIES
Benningfield said he operates a television store in Baltimore with his wife and is a television repairman.

Carl E. Filsinger, secretary-treasurer of Penn-Moc, said that as bookkeeper Shanks made out all the checks, then was to present them to him for his signature as secretary-treasurer. He said Shanks had no right to sign the checks.

Filsinger listed seven checks made out to Benningfield, and then read the notations made in the company books and in the checkbook stubs covering those checks. The books and stubs showed the payment as made American Thread Company, Castle Trimming Company and other concerns with which the shoe company does business. Similarly, the checks to Western Union which were paid to Benningfield were listed in the company books as payments to American Bilt-Rite Rubber Company, International Shoe, and other concerns with which the Penn-Moc company normally does business.

SIGNATURES FORGED
The entries were all made in Shanks' handwriting, he said, and the checks bearing his signature were all forged.

Filsinger said the embezzlement was discovered when Shanks failed to appear for work, phoning in that he was sick, late in April, 1961. Shanks had been an employee of the concern since July, 1959, and had been bookkeeper since July, 1960.

Filsinger, taking over the book-keeping duties, noted the returned checks did not jibe with the book entries, and the investigation began which uncovered the embezzlement.

not disturbed when the checks from Shanks came in the form of Penn-Moc checks because he understood Shanks was bookkeeper for that company and had the right to write checks on the concern. He said he knew the checks were on Penn-Moc but assumed that Shanks was the source of the money behind the checks.

Benningfield said he received approximately 10 per cent of the $19,768.45 received in money orders. He said that Shanks offered him 10 per cent to collect the checks from Western Union and cash them. Shanks explained that the money from Penn-Moc through Western Union was to be used to purchase a one-third interest in the El Dorado Club at Baltimore. Shanks explained, Benningfield said, that since Shanks was on parole in Maryland he could not carry large sums of money across the border into the state. Under terms of the parole he was not to cross state lines without permission and if he were caught in Maryland with only a few dollars on him he could easily explain that he was just driving to Baltimore and planned to go back. If he had a large sum on him, he would have much difficulty explaining what he was doing.

MISLEADING MESSAGES

Benningfield said he had no reason to doubt Shanks' word. He said at first he was curious and kept a record of the first checks, but when they cleared without difficulty he was strengthened in his belief that all was well. He said that Shanks always notified him when he planned to send a money order and that Benningfield then picked up the order at the Western Union office only a few blocks from the El Dorado Club and took the cash immediately there, where he turned it over to Shanks, minus his commission on the money.

Some of the money orders contained messages. Benningfield said he was told to disregard the messages, that they were sent only to prevent "too many people" from knowing about the transaction. The message, concerning payment of percentages and advances to salesmen, were to "keep others from knowing" about the club purchase. Benningfield said he was told.

Fairfield Lions Have Box Social

The Fairfield Lions Club met at the Fairfield Lions Park, Iron Springs, Tuesday, with 28 members and ladies present for a box social. Lion Dorsey J. Schultz served as auctioneer and members had to bid sight unseen for the boxes. Lions B. E. Benner and William Musser were the only members who received their own wives' boxes and they were assessed an additional 10 per cent. The $32 received from the sale of 14 boxes will be put in the special anniversary fund. Harold Day and Dorsey Schultz were the committee in charge.

The club also decided to fine those who were not present without a good excuse, which will amount to about $2.50.

At the next regular meeting on September 17 the club will have its regular broom and light bulb sale, the principal charity fund raising event of the year, with proceeds being used for eye glasses, eye examinations and similar needs of the community. Members will sell in the Fairfield area, Orrtanna, Liberty Twp. and Cashtown, beginning at 5 p.m. and continuing until the sale is completed. Residents of these areas are urged to hold off their purchase of these items until called upon by members of the Lions.

COUNCIL OKAYS

by a complete block of the stream by an auto wheel complete with tire and hub cap, another tire, two oil drums and a beam the size of a railroad tie which formed a dam. She asked council to place a grating or bars at the alley near the rear of her property on Baltimore St. where the stream goes under a bridge. The alley then is covered over through a number of properties. When it clogged in 1961 the flood waters tore out portions of the lawn at Mrs. Gideon's property which had covered the stream for many years.

Borough Engineer LeRoy Winebrenner said such a screen had been attempted before, but "it just causes a dam and the water floods the area. When we had it before we had to go out in a storm and remove the bars."

He suggested that a "manhole" of some kind be placed at the point where the covered-over stream turns on Mrs. Gideon's property to permit borough workmen to clear obstructions. Council agreed to notify Mrs. Gideon that if she arranged for such an opening the borough employees would from time to time clean out the stream at that point. Council at first considered the possibility of the town constructing the "manhole," but decided that since the spot was on private property it would be "getting into trouble" if the town paid the cost of the entrance to the stream.

Last month council had been asked by an out-of-town motel concern permission to cross over the alley at the Gideon property with a motel, providing space for vehicles in the alley to pass under the second floor crossing.

PAY CENTENNIAL SHARE

Mrs. Gideon later said that her historic property was not for sale to the motel concern and at Tuesday evening's meeting of council Building Official Charles Kuhn reported to council that he had been notified that afternoon that the motel company had abandoned plans to buy the property and thus dropped its request for the over-head passage of the alley.

Council had authorized payment of up to $600 toward the coordinating committee which had a number of duties in connection with the Battle of Gettysburg Centennial. Monday evening it received a bill for its share of the cost, for $525.17. In addition to spending less than anticipated, the town also became the possessor of three aluminum booths used by the committee during the anniversary period. The booths were turned over to the Recreation Association when its chairman, Kenneth Dengler, said he believed the association could make use of the structures.

Council approved payment of $750 into the police pension fund as recommended by the pension fund advisory concern, Bragdon Associates. For the last several years the town has been placing $1,000 per year in the fund. The $750 recommended this year is the first drop in the amount put up annually by the borough toward the fund.

STREET TRAFFIC FLOW

Mayor William G. Weaver reported that he and the appropriate committees of council have been working on changes in parking, traffic pattern, one-way streets, etc., in the town. He said the actual proposals will come before council via the committees, but suggested that the proposed ordinances be published in advance to give the people of the town a chance to consider the matter before the ordinances come up for adoption.

Council, checking its budget for the year, held it could not afford to construct a proposed $3,600 concrete block maintenance and storage building at Recreation Park this fall but promised to put the building into the 1964 budget. In the meantime, it promised to provide borough trucks to move picnic tables, etc., to the former Deatrick Brothers garage to the rear of the engine house for storage there this winter.

expanded peacefully in Atlanta, where more than 150 Negro children enrolled at 11 white schools, and spread to other parts of the state unmarked by trouble.

Public schools admitted 14 Negroes in Savannah and five in Athens. Parochial schools desegregated in the Georgia cities of Valdosta, Savannah, Columbus and Albany.

Police stood watch in Baton Rouge, La., as 28 Negro children entered once-white high schools for the first time in the history of the state. There were two minor incidents. Integration was expanded in orderly fashion in New Orleans.

FLORIDA QUIET

In Tallahassee, Fla., three Negroes attended a white high school without incident. Elsewhere in Florida, Negroes attended white schools at Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Miami, bringing to 45 the number of integrated schools in the state. Eight counties were affected in all.

The number of Negro children attending integrated schools in Memphis, Tenn., was increased from 46 to 258. But the expanded desegregation almost was overshadowed by Negro pickets who urged students at five Negro schools to ignore staggered classroom hours.

VIRGINIA PROBLEM

In Surry County, Va., a private segregated school started classes after white teachers balked at teaching in schools ordered desegregated. What would happen to seven Negroes assigned to white public schools in the country was not indicated.

Elsewhere in Virginia, quiet desegregation came to a number of school systems including those of Martinsville and Radford and the counties of Prince George, Henrico, Albemarle, Dinwiddie, Charles City and Frederick.

Thirteen school districts in southern Kentucky admitted Negro pupils — one, at Bowling Green, under federal court orders. About 175 Negroes entered white schools there.

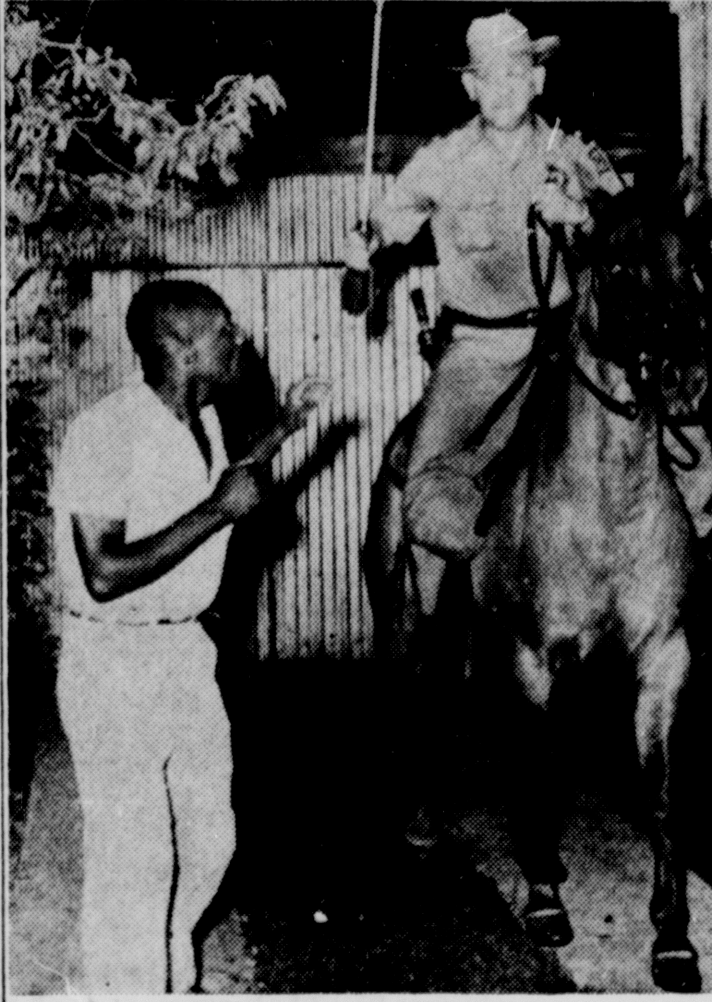

In two Kentucky districts, small Negro populations of school age were absorbed completely into white schools — 18 in Allen County and 22 in Edmonson.

Twenty Negroes enrolled at four white schools in Cambridge, Md., as unarmed National Guardsmen kept watch. A high school near Hurlock, Md., which admitted two Negroes last year added nine more.

Eight states and the District of Columbia have integrated faculties at some schools. They are Texas, Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Oklahoma, West Virginia and Tennessee.

The superintendent of Boston public schools announced a new policy of open enrollment, apparently in answer to charges of "de facto" segregation by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In North Little Rock, Ark., a white mother tried to enroll her 6-year-old son in a Negro school but was turned away. She said she probably would try again today, and school officials said they would accept the child.

LIONS TO DINE ON THURSDAY

The Littlestown Lions Club will hold its first September dinner meeting on Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Starlite Room, Dutterer's Restaurant. The program will be in charge of the education committee, consisting of Clayton L. Evans and Wilbur E. Mackley.

Ralph Eckenrode, membership development and retention chairman, reminds each Lions Club that District Governor Elmo Mentzer is asking each club to secure one new member each month for a total of 12 for the year. This is in line with Lions International Annual Club Membership Growth Program which began with July, 1963, and runs to June 30, 1964. Lions International will present all clubs showing a net gain of 12 members for the year with 12 members for the year.

NEGRO PUPILS BEGIN SCHOOL IN SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Public schools were integrated quietly here Tuesday as 14 Negro pupils took their places in class in two formerly white high schools.

Originally, 20 had been accepted but only seven Negroes were admitted at Savannah High School, where 13 had registered earlier.

School officials had not immediate explanation as to why only seven were admitted there.

OTHER AREAS At Groves High in suburban Savannah, seven Negroes went to seven separate classrooms.

Groves High has about 1,100 white pupils and Savannah High has about 2,600.

Although there had been reports that a white group would attempt to bar the Negroes from the schools, no such effort was made. All unauthorized persons were barred from the two school grounds.

The Negro pupils all entered the 2nd grade on a step-a-year desegregation plan approved by federal courts. The 11th grade will be integrated next year.

Also integrated Tuesday for the first time were several Catholic schools. Although Catholic authorities declined to say how many Negroes entered the parochial schools, one source said there were less than 10.

Of Lehigh's 51 football candidates reporting to Coach Mike Cooley, 12 are lettermen.

Clerks Appointed By Relief Board: The Adams County Board of Public Assistance met Tuesday evening in special session in the board offices in the Eagle Hotel building at the direction of the employment board of the state department and selected four clerical employees from certified lists of eligibles. The lists were created on the basis of recent civil service examinations. The appointees, whose selections are subject to approval at Harrisburg, are as follows: Miss Ruth Lady, Springs avenue, senior stenographer, at $1,140 a year; Miss Oneda C. Deardorff, Aspers, stenographer, at $1,020 a year; Miss Mae Elizabeth Baumgardner, Bendersville, senior typist, at $1,020 a year; Miss Ruth Leona Beamer, Table Rock, senior typist, at $1,020 a year.

Horace F. Armor And Bride Will Live In Chicago: Miss Wilma L. Kramer, Bridgeport, Conn., and Horace F. Armor, son of William D. Armor, East Middle Street, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. J. B. Baker, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, York, at his summer home along Marsh Creek, west of here. Mr. and Mrs. Brady S. Armor, Newburgh, New York, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom attended the couple. The bride formerly was employed by the Du Pont Company. Mr. Armor is a graduate of Gettysburg college and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity. About a year ago he was promoted to a salesman's position by the Du Pont company and was transferred from Fairfield, Conn., to Chicago. The couple will reside in Chicago. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Armor home on East Middle St.

European War May Be Delayed, Putman Says: "Europe is scared stiff of a war nobody wants. Yet there is a feeling that a European war, and probably a world conflict, is inevitable although it easily may be postponed for 10 years if the democracies of the continent are able to catch up in the armament race." That interesting observation, based on the contents of copious notes on 102 conferences with statesmen, government officials, economic leaders, trained observers of international affairs and leaders of religious and antireligious organizations, gathered during an eight-week trip across Europe and back, was among others made by the Rev. Dwight F. Putman in an interview with a Gettysburg Times reporter. The Christ Lutheran pastor returned Wednesday from a 15,000-mile journey as a member of an American seminar group of 50 professional men and women. Sheaves of notes and a partial pictorial record of the trip made with a motion picture camera provided by the Christ Lutheran congregation before the tour remain to be gone over and organized by the Rev. Mr. Putman.

Canning Record: Mrs. Stella Engel and Mrs. Grace Bishop set what is believed to be at least a local record when they canned 91 quarts of peaches in one day last week. The peaches were preserved the "old way" — by cooking in an open kettle and then filling the jars. Five bushels were

PATIENCE
When the poet Longfellow used that line "Learn to labor — and to wait," it stayed with me. It makes a wonderful motto. Most of us learn to labor early in life — but it takes most of us a long time to learn to wait — or, in other words, learn to be patient. I recall visiting a hospital to see a friend confined there. I passed rows of those who were ill. Nurses and doctors went back and forth, but no sounds of impatience on the part of any of those who were so unfortunate as to be in beds, away from home and those beloved! I looked upon the faces of many. There I saw written resignation and patience. Few virtues equal patience. It involves so much it involves control, insight, perspective, vision, and sympathetic understanding. In a spiritual sense it involves hope and faith. Those who have learned patience are usually those who have suffered much in their hearts, who have known sorrow and disappointment, but whose spirits have remained firm and unbroken. To be patient in the face of loss and confusion is a rare gift. Patience is the net result of disorganization and a lack of confidence in oneself and God. Young people should learn patience early in life. It will hold them steadfast in the hour of decision. Did the drivers of cars know patience better there would be far fewer accidents. Impatience is the father of recklessness. Many a five minutes could have been saved by the reckless driver — and a life besides. Permanent worth comes through a long process. Early success is often ruinous because not enough trouble has been experienced. Too little patience endured. Not enough hurdles of a difficult nature known. Dismiss patience as a virtue, if you will, but strive for it as good sense!

Just Folks
AT THE AFTERNOON TEA
The man was straight and tall and true,
The woman fair to see,
They met as people often do,
At what is termed a "tea."

Now teas are dreadful bores at best,
As countless people say,
They're functions most of us detest,
But dare not put away.
'Tis truth to tell the maiden stood
Unwillingly in line,
And he was there because he could
Not gracefully decline.

And muttering at the tedious fate
Which forced him out to tea,
The handsome man so tall and straight,
Met her so fair to see.
She brought to him a cup of tea,
Likewise a bit of cake,
And hurried back to learn if he
Another cup would take.

"I saw, sir," unto him she said,
"Perhaps more tea you wished."
The handsome fellow hung his head,
Her beauty had him dished.
"It must be nice," said he, "to reign
And pour at such a tea."
"The shop talk here," she smiled again,
"Is deadly dull to me."

"I'm bored to death by such affairs,
They all seem so absurd,
In spite of people's breezy airs,
Only the tea is stirred."

"Then will you be my darling bride,
And name the day," said he,
"Of course I will," the maid replied,
"You suit me to a T."

President's Brother Seems Man Behind The Throne In South Viet Nam Activities

By ROY ESSOYAN
SAIGON South Viet Nam (AP) — Ngo Dinh Nhu, the man behind the throne in South Viet Nam, lamented recently that "if anybody's oppressed in this country, it's the government."

A month later, Nhu persuaded his brother President Ngo Dinh Diem, to declare martial law while Nhu personally ordered troops and his own security police to storm pagodas and break the back of a Buddhist opposition movement that threatened the family regime.

In the wake of this crackdown two weeks ago, Nhu emerged as possibly the most powerful — and most hated — figure in South Viet Nam. He has dominated his brother Diem since their youth, although Diem at 62 is 9 years his senior.

MISUNDERSTOOD MAN
Nhu likes to tell visitors that he is a much misunderstood man. His is a many-faceted personality — mild-mannered, soft-spoken and tough.

Discussing the danger of a possible attempt to overthrow the government, Nhu told a group of military leaders last month there were only two ways of handling a coup — "You smash it like an egg before it is hatched or you join it and exploit it."

Nhu is violently anti-Communist. He has said the only solution for the Red China problem is to atom-bomb Peking.

AMERICAN VIEW
But an American who has known him for years says Nhu is captivated by Communist techniques and successes.

Communist expressions such as "revisionism" often creep into his conversation. One of his pet projects is a regular Friday afternoon "self-criticism" session, a Marxist-type confession for military men and civil servants. It is aimed, Nhu says, at "sweeping all rotten elements out of the government machinery in order to build a happy, equal and free society."

ATTITUDE TOWARD U. S.
Nhu has a great regard for U. S. industrial and mechanical ingenuity. But he makes no secret of his contempt for American democratic and political processes.

Nhu's favorite headgear for relaxing outdoors is a baseball cap. He also favors American sport shirts and casual sweaters. He likes to play the typically American role of fond husband and boyish father.

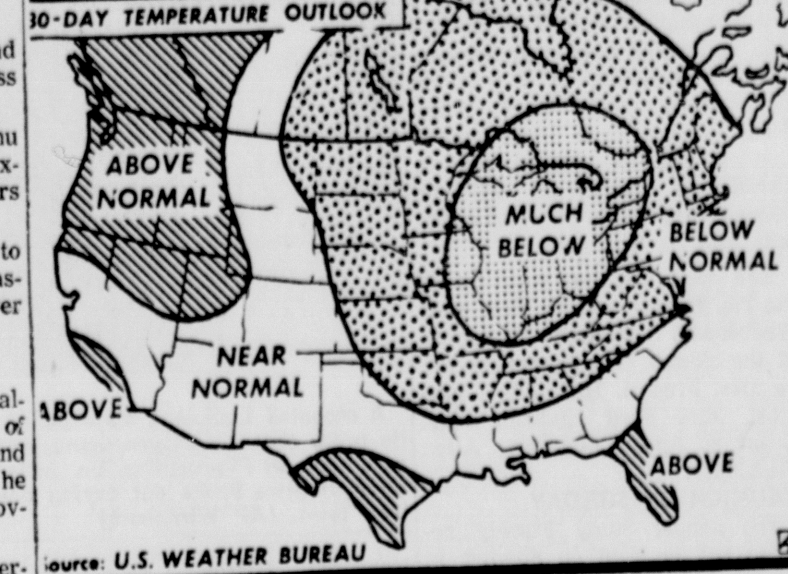

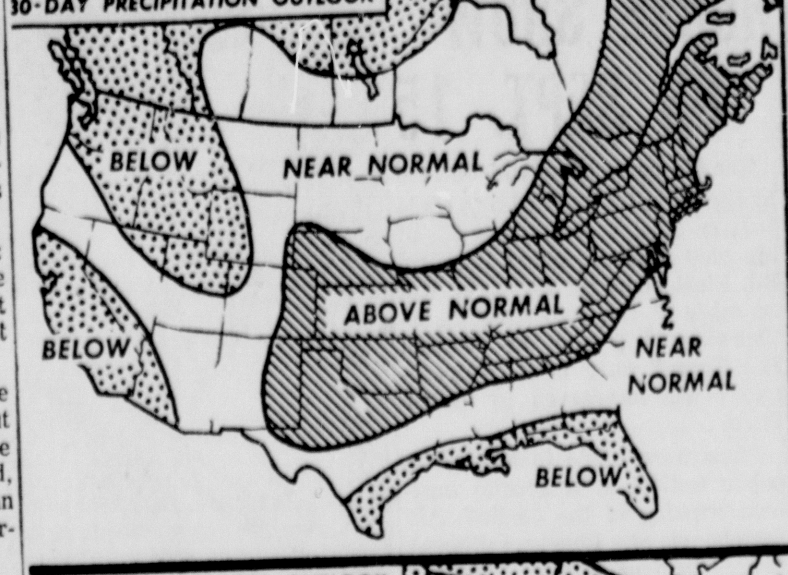

Americans, Nhu says, are naive. They are "intoxicated" — a favorite phrase of his — and misinformed by the press. He says Americans don't understand Asians or Communists.

WILL NOT BOW
Nhu is reported to have said he would make a deal with his country's arch enemy Communist North Viet Nam, before he would bow to American pressure. He has repeatedly indicated he has contacts with North Viet Nam.

When a coup appeared threatening last month, Nhu was reported to have said he would order Saigon razed if any attempt were made to overthrow his family's regime.

BRILLIANT BUT UNSTABLE
Where Diem is still generally respected, Nhu is widely disliked, even hated, by Vietnamese who blame him for the government's authoritarian rule. Nhu knows it.

Littlestown THRUSS TALKS ON DUTIES OF COUNCILMEN

John D. Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
ECONOMY: More jobs and more income for most American families 10 years hence are part of the generally bright future forecast for the U.S. economy in a National Planning Association study.
Average family income will rise $2,20 from the 1962 figure to $9,300 and the unemployment rate will drop from 5.6 to 4 per cent despite 15 million more workers by 1973, the association's center for economic projections said in a Labor Day forecast.
The Gross National Product will rise to $904 billion, a 63-per cent increase over 1962, and the nation's population will rise 38 million to 226 million, the study said.
The major dark spot in the generally optimistic report is for the unskilled worker.
There will be a 12.5-million increase in white collar jobs, but only 2.5 million for blue collar workers, the study said.

ANCIENT MARINERS: The Smithsonian Institution reports that Orientals may have crossed the Pacific to South America as long ago as 5,000 years.
"Prehistoric voyages across the Pacific Ocean from southern Japan to the coast of Ecuador — possibly as early as 3000 B.C. — now are postulated on the basis of substantial archeological evidence," The Smithsonian announced Monday.
Papers by two Smithsonian experts, Betty J. Meggers and Clifford Evans, said tracing the presence of Orientals in Ecuador long before the birth of Christ was based on a modern method of dating ancient relics — in this case, pottery.

EXPORTS: President Kennedy will speak at a White House conference to encourage businessmen to expand U.S. exports, it was announced Monday by Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. The conference will be held Sept. 17-18.
Kennedy, in his message to Congress on the balance of payments July 18, said the purpose of the conference is to emphasize to businessmen "that vigorous action to increase their exports would serve their own private interests as well as the national interest."

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS: Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said today that President Kennedy is attempting to improve the U.S. balance of payments with only short-term measures that are no more effective than "building sand castles to protect our shores."
"The imbalance of international payments is getting worse — not better — and it threatens to continue along a course unfavorable to us," Javits said in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate.
Javits said reform of the

P.A. AUSTERITY PROGRAM FELT BY EMPLOYEES

By JACK LYNCH
HARRISBURG (AP) — Pay increases apparently are few and far apart in the upper echelon of state government these days.

And in the lower levels only three of every four persons finds a little extra in his or her paycheck on employment anniversary dates.

A check of employment records, the State Budget Office and Democrats in control of the Auditor General and Treasury Departments indicates that the Republican administration is closely following the dictates of economy laid down by Gov. Scrantom when he took office eight and a half months ago.

MUST CONTINUE
"The austerity program has to continue because we are faced with the need to find more money for the new budget year," says Martin H. Brackbill, the governor's budget secretary.

He added in an interview that only six persons in the upper levels, including himself, have been given substantial pay increases. Brackbill's salary was increased Aug. 5 from $16,120 to $19,500 yearly — the latter amount being the same as paid to his Democratic predecessor, David Baldwin.

PAY HIKE FOR HIM
According to one of the governor's top aides, Brackbill's pay was hiked because of his heavy responsibilities which were increased by newly enacted legislation.

The other five receiving pay increases were two bureau chiefs and three supervisors who, according to Brackbill, were being paid less than Democratic holdovers.

Aside from that, Brackbill says he has "stayed religiously" within the policy limits laid down by the governor.

Records of 15 appointments to high posts, including deputy secretaries and bureau chiefs, show that eight were paid the same as their predecessors, four were paid more and three were paid less.

Dodgers Win In 10 While Cards Take 6th In Row; Ray Culp Blanks Braves

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Tommy Davis, trying to become the first National League batting champion in a decade to retain his title, lost ground to Dick Groat in his latest effort but kept the Los Angeles Dodgers wheeling toward their long-awaited pennant popoff.

Davis collected only one hit Tuesday night, but it was a clutch single in the 10th inning that drove in the winning run in a 4-3 victory over Houston and maintained the Dodgers' six-game bulge over second-place St. Louis.

Davis, a 24-year-old right-handed swinger, trudged off the field last October with a .346 average and the batting title, after the Dodgers lost the third and deciding game of the pennant playoff with San Francisco.

CARDS BEAT BUCS

Now the Dodgers are heading for the champagne popoff they missed last year and Davis is struggling to become the first repeat batting champion since Stan Musial of St. Louis in 1950-51. Davis, hitting .322, is tied with Vada Pinson of Cincinnati for second place.

Groat, batting king at Pittsburgh with a .325 mark in 1960, is hitting .327 this year while playing shortstop for St. Louis. He went 2-for-4 as the Cardinals ran their longest winning streak of the season to six games by walloping Pittsburgh 10-5.

TWENTY FOR JUAN

Juan Marichal joined the 20-victory club as third-place San Francisco blasted the Chicago Cubs 16-3. Philadelphia's Ray Culp shut out Milwaukee 2-0 on two hits and Cincinnati's Joe Nuxhall blanked the New York Mets 5-0 on three hits.

The Colts scored in the top of the 10th on Rusty Staub's run-producing single before pinch hitter Moose Skowron got the Dodgers started with a single in the bottom half. A single by Jim Gilliam and Wally Moon's sacrifice fly got the tying run across. Gilliam then stole second, Davis singled and reliever Ron Perranoski, 14-2, had another victory. Dick Farrell, 10-13, took the loss.

Trailing 5-4 going into the sixth, the Cardinals tied the score on an error by reliever Roy Face, and moved out front to stay on a passed ball by Jim Pagliaroni before Tim McCarver's three-run eighth-inning homer clinched it. Bill White also homered for St. Louis, hitting a career high with his 23rd.

STOCK MARKET LOOKING GOOD TO INVESTORS

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—More often than not the stock market turns down in September. But this time many brokers are plugging for an upturn. They think times are getting ripe for the small investor to return.

He apparently had little to do with the modest rise in the stock price averages in August, which traditionalists now are calling the summer rally. The same chart followers say that such a rally usually is followed by a slide-off after Labor Day.

The little fellow has been wary since he got burned in the May-June crash of 1962. But those who think he may be tempted back in force to the market now point to a number of things:

RISE IN PRICES

Slowly rising prices in scattered industrial materials and consumer goods could build public suspicion that inflation may not be as dead as the money managers would like to think—and rising prices usually spur stock buying.

Congress seems set sooner or later to hand out some goodies—a tax cut for both business and individuals, more government spending in a variety of lines, all designed to beef up the economy.

International affairs, in spite of the many trouble spots, are calmer than a year or two ago—Khrushchev talks more friendly, whether he means it or not; the chicken war between the United States and the Common Market may be compromised before it breaks out into full-fledged trade war.

STOCKS LOOK GOOD

Industrial statistics and business predictions are more than usually optimistic for the season, which would make numerous companies (and their stocks) look good to investors.

Factory sales have risen to a new high and, more important for the future, manufacturers' new orders have increased. Still farther in the future is the good prospect tied to the reported rise in August and July of machine tool orders, meaning industry is preparing for expected more activity.

Retail sales continue to gain modestly. This, along with increased installment credit, shows the consumer to be in a buying mood still.

AUTO SALES

High auto sales and output build hopes for a third straight year of prosperity for that key industry, which would be an unprecedented thing.

Steel orders have shown their first quickening after the summer lull. Inventories of steel users, built up during the labor negotiations, are reported to be approaching normal levels.

Industry also is free for the time being of fears of a rail strike that could have snarled its supply and product distribution lines.

All of this adds up to promises of a good fall for industry and trade.

WORKERS SHUT STEEL PLANT

GARY, Ind. (AP)—The huge Gary works of the United States Steel Corp. was shut down Tuesday by a walkout of workers over the suspension of a grievance committee member. About 15,000 employees were affected.

The walkout started with the 11 p.m. and the midnight shifts Monday night. Supervisors began banking the furnaces.

About 100 pickets walking close together blocked entrances to the plant, a company official said. He said office workers were stopped at the gates.

The controversy started Friday with the five-day suspension of Jack McLaughlin, a member of the grievance committee of Local 1014 of the United Steelworkers Union.

U.S. Steel officials said McLaughlin was suspended because he "attempted bodily injury to another employee and used abusive and threatening language."

Union officials said McLaughlin was not technically an employee of the company while a member of the grievance committee.

NEW BUDDHIST REFUGEE GETS NO U.S. HAVEN

By ROBERT EUNSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—A young Buddhist monk sought refuge in the U.S. Embassy Tuesday but was politely told he could not be admitted.

The monk apparently sought to join three other Buddhists, including a top organizer of the Buddhist antigovernment movement, who were granted asylum in the embassy Saturday.

The latest applicant for asylum arrived in gray robes on foot at the embassy chancery. An embassy official explained politely, "We're just too full."

NOT PURSUED

The young monk apparently was not pursued by the police, and one of the conditions of political asylum is that the refugee must not be "hotly pursued."

The latest refugee thanked Marine guards and officials anyway, made the traditional lotus flower salute, and walked away. He was not molested as long as he was in sight, and disappeared around a corner.

On Monday, the military governor of Saigon, Brig. Gen. Ton That Dinh, told a press conference he intended to demand the return of the three monks in refuge at the embassy. But the State Department in Washington said it planned to continue giving them asylum.

New friction developed in U.S.-South Vietnamese relations because the three monks were given asylum and a government-sponsored newspaper accused the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency of plotting to overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
BRIMFUL OF FLATTERY. Be quick to get yourself a new hat—if, that is, you enjoy flattery. The most profuse kind is built into fall millinery.

First off, hats offer an individual beauty treatment. Owing to the variety of shapes and proportions, there's more than one properly shaped and sized hat to enhance the mold of your face and figure. Too, as hats sit high on the head, they cap your hairstyle without muss or fuss.

Moreover millinery is perfectly tailored to this season's sportive fashions. In fact, without the finish of a hat, the casual theme of daytime clothes could appear unfinished.

Jaunty and young-thinking, shapes range from smallish brimmed pork pies and fedoras to flaring brimmed slouches and chin-tied Anzacs. And how those brims do work for a lovely's loveliness!

As most of them are flexible, they can be flipped in any direction that suits your features, personality or whim. Just try the profile flip—it's a wowser! In any case, be sure to flip a brim so as to counteract an unwanted feature—to slant or cut directly across it. For example, a brim turned straight down in front would minimize a too pointed chin.

Adding to the appeal of chapeaux, and no small part of it, are posh fabrics—tweed, fur felts, hides, such as calf, buttery leather, knit weaves and sporty furs. Trimming is minimal, as should be. The shapes and the fabrics are the essence—the quintessence of fashion and flattery.

THE EYES OF YOUTH

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, THE EYES OF YOUTH. BOYLE'S Grab Bag

NEW YORK (AP)—Phyllis Diller, who dresses to look like an ostrich on a three-day binge, is perhaps the only woman in America with five children who also wears white, blue and rose-colored contact lenses.

"My goal is to be a gracious woman," she remarked matter-of-factly. "But I decided that if I was to be an idiot broad, I might as well make it pay."

Miss Diller certainly has made it pay. As "the female Bob Hope," master of the one-line quip, she has become a reigning queen of the night club circuit.

EARNINGS UP

"Last year I paid taxes on $260,000," she said. "This year I hope to make a half million."

Then, she is confident, she will go on to a million, two million, etc., etc.

"But progress is mathematical," she declared during a rest between her frantic nightly chores at the Hotel Americana's Royal Box. "There is no point in being impatient."

A good standup lady comic is a rarity in show business, and Miss Diller is currently the most successful in the field.

dream—to have a roomful of people listening to her," she said. "And it is."

"But most women wouldn't stick to this line of work. They'd get too hurt emotionally. But to me it's a form of therapy."

Eight years ago Phyllis, then 37, was just another working housewife—she had a radio writing job—who got a big kick out of entertaining other women with her zany antics.

HUSBAND RESPONSIBLE

Her husband, Sherwood, kept urging her to turn professional. She did finally—with considerable qualms.

"I had to give up a $100 a week job, an expense account, and a car to become an unemployed comic," she said.

Top German Scholar Defects To West

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Prof. Hans Mayer, East German national prize winner and one of the most prominent Soviet bloc "liberal" intellectuals, has defected to West Germany.

Here on a lecture tour, Mayer announced Monday night he will not return to Leipzig University where he has taught literature for 15 years and gained an international reputation.

In 1935, he won the East German government's national prize for his works on classical and modern literature. Since the East German Communist regime tightened its reins, he had fallen into official disgrace but his defection is expected to have a bombshell effect among intellectuals in the Soviet bloc.

Mayer, 56, is a close friend of many leading Eastern writers.

CORE OFFICER PEGS POLICE AS LYNCH MOB

PLAQUEMINE, La. (AP)—James Farmer of Chicago, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, says a "lynch mob" made up of law enforcement officers broke up a Negro demonstration in Plaquemine.

Farmer, who has been leading a campaign against alleged discrimination in this town on the Mississippi River delta, told a news conference in New Orleans Monday: "Police did not break up the demonstration but pursued demonstrators into churches, homes and any shelter they sought."

He said Plaquemine was "a city under siege," and added, "I have never seen such police treatment in Mississippi or Alabama."

TEAR GAS

Tear gas, fire hoses and mounted policemen smashed the demonstration Sunday night, firing tear gas into a church that was headquarters for the Negroes.

Maj. Ben Ragusa, commanding state troopers who reinforced Plaquemine's police force, said no force was used except tear gas.

TOWN LACKS MAYOR, SCHOOL WATER SUPPLY

VAN VOORHIS, Pa. (AP)—This Washington County town of about 400 residents has no schools, no mayor and no main highway. And now, it also has had no water.

The Van Voorhis Water Co., which operates the town well, was forced to cut off the water on Saturday after the State Department of Health reported it did not meet chemical standards.

State inspectors found magnesium, iron and offensive sulphates in the well which was drilled only last year. Besides that residents were complaining the water was "muddy" and "bad-tasting."

SOME USE SPRING

Some residents walk to a nearby spring for drinking water, carrying it back to their homes in jars and tubs.

Others are getting it from a 600 gallon tank in the middle of the community. Leon Yablonski of California, Pa., owner of the town well, set up the tank. He fills it with water from California.

"It's a nasty situation, but one this locality will have to live with until a remedy is found," Yablonski said Monday night.

SOMEONE COMPLAINED

One housewife, Mrs. John P. Dobrinski, said:

"There's been a water problem here for some time. I managed to get by all right, but I guess some people finally got together and complained."

The water was turned on for a hour Monday.

"It came out real red, like blood," said Mr. Dobrinski.

He said Negroes were throwing bricks before troopers went into the church and that 20 of his men were hit.

In Washington, the Justice Department said it was sending additional FBI agents to Plaquemine, 20 miles south of Baton Rouge, to investigate Farmer's charges.

Babe Ruth's .393 batting average in 1923 still stands as a New York Yankee club record.

SALARY HIKES STARTING FOR TOP EMPLOYEES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Substantial salary increases went into effect this week for five top employees of the Revenue Department, Gov. Scranton's administration has reported.

Martin H. Brackbill, the governor's budget secretary, said the exceptions were made in the Revenue Department because the employees affected had started at salary scales below holdover employees. The general policy is to start employees at the lowest salary in their work category and increase their scale gradually.

It was reported earlier in the week that Brackbill's own salary had been boosted from $16,120 to $19,500 because his duties have been increased. Brackbill is not a Revenue Department employee.

OTHER INCREASES

Among the Revenue Department increases was the salary of Earl Kopp, who is assigned to the governor's office, but is carried on the Revenue payroll. His pay went from $8,500 to $9,454 a year.

The others receiving increases: George B. Gold, director of the sales and use tax bureau, $11,501 to $13,301.

John Brinton, director of corporations taxes, $11,501 to $13,301.

William Brandamore, reclassified from administrative officer II to administrative officer III, $7,772 to $9,454.

James Bassett, raised two grades as personnel officer, $6,716 to $9,454.

ary War soldier and the unmarked grave of a soldier of the Mexican War. The Revolutionary soldier's grave, that of William Houghtelin, has been identified by a government marker.

Steel posts and wire fence has been erected about the burial plot which has been unused in nearly a century. Trees and brush have been cleared away, grave markers reset, steps and an ornamental gate placed at the entrance.

SEE CHURCH SITE

The newly moved northern Low Dutch Cemetery, a mile and a half directly east of Hunters-town in Straban Twp., was visited next where Russell Osborn, who has ancestors buried there, told of the restoration work he has conducted. It included clearing brush and trees, repairing the old stone wall, resetting grave stones and erecting a wooden gate under an entrance archway.

The northern cemetery, more than double the size of the southern one, includes known graves of a half dozen Revolutionary War veterans but has seen no burials in a half century. Mr. Osborn pointed to traces of the location of the small church that years ago stood near the graveyard entrance and Mr. Weaver told of a plan to erect a stone on the grave of the Rev. Mr. Cosine, who once served the church and is buried there.

Both Miss McIlhenny and Mr. Weaver spoke of the need for funds to insure future maintenance of the cemeteries. In the case of the northern plot, there is a small trust fund for its up-

Major F. C. Schiess, detachment commander of the Air Force Recruiting Service, came here from Alexandria, Va., Tuesday to present a certificate of appreciation to Kenneth L. Fair, manager of the Thrift Plan Finance Corporation's Baltimore St. office.

The certificate was in appreciation for use of a Thrift Plan office show window for an Air Force display to which six enlistments have been attributed since the display was placed on May 27.

REPORTS DISTRIBUTED

In both cemeteries there are many graves marked only by field stones. On some initials were scratched and some also bear a date while others are granite or slate tombstones with conventional inscriptions. Burials in both extend back to the late 18th century.

Copies of a typed report from Miss McIlhenny's committee, prepared by Mr. Weaver, were distributed to the members of the touring party. It represents the second annual report of the committee and is concerned chiefly with the southern cemetery. Last year's report dealt with the northern one which was restored first.

Family names appearing in one or both of the old cemeteries include Durbin, Brinkerhoff, Young, Houghtelin, Berceaw, Cosh, Cassatt, Demaree, Lushells, McCreary, Voorhees and Baldwin. Inscriptions on many stones are indistinguishable. No plan has ever been found for the southern plot. Mr. Osborn has a century-old plan for the northern burial ground.

Two Counties Given Sentences

Dean R. Shaner, 21, Gettysburg, was sentenced Tuesday by Judge George W. Atkins, York, to 11 to 23 months in the York County jail on a charge of larceny. An accomplice, Karl H. Arndt, 18, Gettysburg, drew a two to six-month jail term.

The two were charged with grabbing the purse of a 16-year-old girl in the first block of W. Market St., York.

80 Killed

Rescue workers found debris and bodies scattered over an area of several hundred feet. The blazing wreckage lighted up nearby farm houses.

Mrs. Emil Luescher, wife of a Duerrnaesch baker, told newsmen she and her family "first thought the cork factory across the road had exploded. The whole house shook, all the window panes went to pieces."

WRECKAGE SCATTERED

"The plane came down about 200 yards from our house. When we got there we saw only a part of the fuselage sticking out of a deep crater. The rest of the plane was strewn in bits and pieces over the houses in the area."

The crash was the third accident involving fatalities in operation of the French-built plane.

The first crash, at Ankara, Turkey, Jan. 19, 1960, killed 41 persons. The second, at Rabat, Morocco, Sept. 12, 1961, killed 77.

Officials at Sud Aviation, which builds the twin-jet craft, said official investigations absolved the planes of operational blame.

company manager Robert Harner secured the digging permits for the authority he was not authorized to do so. The Municipal Authority alleged that the digging permits were issued first to Municipal Authority and then reissued to Woodcrest, according to the Authority's allegation, as reported by Attorney Oyler.

Oyler said his investigation showed that the digging permits were issued to Municipal Authority and there was no change in the issuance. He said Borough Secretary Ann Dracha told him that Harner had secured the permits for the Authority, then later notified her that Woodcrest would pay the cost. Bills to Woodcrest were unpaid and the bill was then sent to Municipal Authority.

Attorney Oyler said Harner does not work for the Municipal Authority but for Municipal Management which operates the borough water-sewer system on contract form the Municipal Authority.

Borough Engineer LeRoy Winebrenner, asked about the cost of placing the surface atop the sewer ditch, held that his men have had to work on Springs Ave. "about twice a year" since the sewer was placed. He said that the contractor found rock along much of the way and had to blast, thus tearing up the roadway six or seven feet wide at spots. He said the ditch was not properly tamped down when it was refilled and as a result the ditch keeps sinking and the road surface over it must be repaired about twice a year.

Attorney Oyler said since the permits were issued to Municipal Authority the suit would have to be brought against it, and "it will be up to them if they wish to add Woodcrest to the suit."

50 Years Ago Bible Reading Was Ordered In Schools Here

Public schools have made a full cycle in the last 50 years on the matter of Bible reading and prayer in the schools. This year for the first time in a half century local schools opened without scripture and prayer.

This item appeared in the Star and Sentinel, former Gettysburg weekly newspaper, on October 23, 1913:

MUST READ BIBLE

State School Head Tells 1,100 Teachers To Read Verses To Pupils

Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction, on Monday opened the 46th annual institute of the teachers of Luzerne County with an address in which he declared that it was the duty of school boards to see that 11 verses of the Bible were read daily in the public schools as demanded by the law passed by the last legislature.

He declared that any atheist or agnostic who feels that he cannot obey this law should resign and seek a position in states where the Bible has been excluded from the public schools. To the 1,100 teachers assembled, Dr. Schaeffer said:

"It is not the function of the public school to teach religion that should be taught at home, in the Sunday School and in the church. I have known some public school teachers to go out of their way to ridicule the faith of a pupil or parent. A worse service could not be rendered. If you destroy the sense of obligation to God you have robbed the child of the strongest motive to moral conduct. Teachers cannot afford to set an example of lawlessness to the pupils."

Dr. Schaeffer declared that the Catholic teacher has as much right to read the prescribed number of Bible verses from the Douay version as has the Protestant to read from the King James version.

GARY WORKERS BACK ON JOBS AFTER STRIKE

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Operations were returning to normal at the big Gary works of U.S. Steel Corp. today after a wildcat walk-out that idled 15,000 workers and caused a partial shutdown.

The company scheduled a hearing to determine whether a grievance committee member, Jack McLaughlin, whose suspension touched off the walkout Tuesday, should be reinstated or fired.

The walkout started at midnight Monday night when pickets blocked the three main entrances to the two-mile long plant along Lake Michigan. The workers were ordered back to their jobs shortly before 1 p.m. Tuesday by Orville Kincaid, subdistrict director of the United Steelworkers Union.

TAKES 2 DAYS

Supervisors had begun banking furnaces in preparation for shutting down the mill.

Company officials said it would take up to two days to put the plant back in full operation. McLaughlin was suspended by the company Friday after an alleged attack on a management official.

A union spokesman said the scuffle occurred at a grievance session and contended the company had no jurisdiction since McLaughlin was acting as a Steelworker official at the time.

Georgia Moves To Cut Jail Crowding

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Moves were under way today to reduce the population of Georgia's maximum security prison in the wake of a riot that injured about 35 and caused $25,000 damage.

Prison Director Fred Hallford said Tuesday's violence points to a need for additional room in the prison system.

Hallford and Warden R.P. Balkcom said they had been unable to determine any direct cause for the riot, involving about 2,000 of the more than 3,000 inmates.

Violence flared again Tuesday night in a cell block housing about 120 inmates, but guards broke up the demonstrations with tear gas.

Hallford said the prison, built about 20 years ago, can safely care for about 2,000 inmates. It now holds 3,061.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Saudi Arabia charged today that Egyptian air force planes bombed and strafed a Saudi Arabian village near the frontier of strife-torn Yemen.

A Saudi Defense Ministry statement broadcast by Mecca Radio said two Soviet-built bombers attacked the village of Fouja Tuesday, but there were no casualties. It said a nearby U.N. truce team picked up bomb and rocket fragments as evidence.

You can use boneless smoked pork butt (such as a "daisy" or "cottage" roll) for a New England Boiled Dinner. For two pounds of the butt add six small potatoes, six small onions and six small carrots. Toward the end of the cooking time, cut a small green cabbage into sixths and add these.

POTOMAC PLAN HEARING SET BY ENGINEERS

By FRANK E. TAYLOR
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for 16 major and 418 smaller reservoirs in the Potomac River Basin come up for hearing today before the Army's board of engineers for rivers and harbors.

The board said witnesses from Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia requested to be heard.

Nine reservoirs have been recommended for construction at this time, including, with proposed dates of construction:

MARYLAND RESERVOIR

Maryland — Bloomington, north branch of the Potomac River near Bloomington, as soon as possible; Six Bridge, Monocacy River upstream from Frederick, 1967; Seneca, Potomac River near Seneca Creek, 1971.

West Virginia — Royal Glen, South Branch of the Potomac River, upstream from Petersburg, 1964.

Pennsylvania — Chambersburg, Conococheague Creek near Chambersburg, 1965; West Branch, West Branch of Conococheague Creek 1968.

VIRGINIA AREA

Virginia — Staunton, Middle River downstream from Staunton, 1966; Brooks Gap, north fork Shenandoah River at Brooks Gap, 1969; Winchester, Opequon Creek near Winchester, 1970.

Army Engineers recommended also that Congress authorize the preservation of the following seven reservoir sites, with proposed construction starting dates:

Pennsylvania — Licking Creek, late 1960s; Back Creek, Conococheague Valley near Chambersburg, late 1960s.

West Virginia — Mount Storm, Stony River near U.S. 50 highway bridge, late 1960s; North Mountain, Back Creek in Virginia and West Virginia.

Maryland — Town Creek, on Town Creek, early 1960s; Savage II, Savage River upstream from existing Savage River Reservoir, late 1960s; Tonoloway, Tonoloway Creek near Hancock, around 2000.

The distinguishing characteristic of cake flour is that it is made from soft wheat and so produces a particularly tender baked product.

Border Peace Is Promised To U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Syria and Israel pledged today to maintain a cease-fire on their uneasy border after the Soviet Union vetoed a U.N. Security Council resolution condemning Syria in the slaying Aug. 19 of two Israeli farmers on the frontier.

The U.S.-British resolution won the support of eight members of the Security Council, Morocco, an Arab league member, and the Soviet Union voted against it. Venezuela abstained.

Council President Jacinto Castel Borja of the Philippines appealed to the Syrians and the Israelis to maintain the cease-fire they promised the U.N. truce supervisory organization after the shootings.

At Morocco's request, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant promised he would have a survey of the peace situation in the region ready in two months.

COED WEDDING CALLED VOID BY GEORGIAN

ATLANTA (AP) — The marriage of Charlayne Hunter, first Negro girl to enter and graduate from the University of Georgia, to a white Southerner is void in Georgia, says Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook.

Miss Hunter, 21, disclosed Monday in New York that she secretly married Walter Stovall, 25, of Douglas, Ga., last spring. She said they are expecting a child in December.

"They are not married under Georgia law," Cook said Tuesday. "It's unlawful for a white person to marry anyone except a white person, and any marriage in violation of this law shall be void."

WED IN NOVEMBER

The couple, who met at the university where they were students, declined to give the exact time and place of the wedding, but said it was in the North.

Cook said any marriage solemnized in another state by "parties intending at the time to reside in this state" shall have the same legal consequences as if they were solemnized in Georgia.

The attorney general said he is investigating to ascertain where the marriage took place.

Cook said he would submit his findings to the solicitor general and a grand jury to determine if the couple may have lived in violation of Georgia's criminal law. He said a grand jury would have to return an indictment against the couple in order for him to take any action.

Mrs. Stovall graduated from the university in June with a journalism degree. Stovall lacked only one quarter of work to get his journalism degree.

University officials expressed shock at the marriage. University President O.C. Aderhold said that neither of them would be permitted to enter the university again.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Faulty wing brakes probably caused the plane crash that killed 73 persons, including the 18-member U.S. figure skating team, in February 1961, the Belgian Ministry of Communications said Tuesday.

The figure skaters, enroute to world championships, were among 49 Americans killed when the Boeing 707 of Belgian Sabena Airlines crashed at Brussels Airport.

PRESIDENT TO NAME CHOICES FOR RAIL PANEL

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is expected to announce today or Thursday his selection of three neutral members to serve on an arbitration panel in the railroad work rules dispute.

Under legislation enacted hurriedly last week to avert a nationwide railroad strike on Aug. 29, he has until Saturday to name three neutral arbitrators to the seven-member panel which will rule on two prime issues in the dispute.

A high government source indicated today the President probably would announce his selections before Friday. That's the day on which Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz meets with rail and union representatives to discuss procedures for arbitration of the issues of locomotive firemen's jobs and train crew makeup and for resumption of negotiation of other issues.

"It would be presumptuous to hold the meeting Friday without having learned who will serve on the arbitration board," the source said.

A list of possible arbitrators to be added to four already selected — two by the railroads and two by the unions — apparently was under study by Labor Department officials and White House staff members.

EARLY FROST COULD HURT

HARRISBURG (AP) — An early frost might jeopardize Pennsylvania's corn crop, which has been delayed by dry weather, the state crop reporting service has disclosed.

In its weekly summary released Tuesday the service said:

"Along the southern border, some corn is in the dent stage, but elsewhere most of the kernels are no farther along than dough consistency. Farmers are fearful of frost because of the heavy damage it could cause to the soft ears."

"Despite recent showers, most sections of the state, except for some northern counties, reported lack of soil moisture. Many fields were too dry to plow."

"Hay fields were being grazed to supplement parched pastures. Hay, silage and grain were being fed as pasture supplements. In northern areas pastures were more nearly normal. Fog and heavy dew were interfering with haymaking."

"Elberta peaches were on market and growers started picking later varieties. Most are small in size from lack of rain, but are of good quality and flavor. Apples needed more moisture, but even so were of good size and were coloring nicely. Growers in southern and central counties were picking Rambos, McIntosh, Gravenstein, Wealthy and other varieties. Erie grapes were in full bunches and turning blue."

HARRISBURG HIT BY STORM

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Harrisburg area was hit by a violent electrical storm Tuesday night that left utility lines and trees in a jumble in many areas.

No injuries were reported from the storm, but a number of home owners reported damaged roofs and chimneys as the result of severe lightning and gusts of wind up to 70 miles per hour.

In one part of Harrisburg a number of birds were stunned by the storm and lay in heaps near houses.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at the Harrisburg - York State Airport said rainfall there totaled less than an inch, but in the capital city many streets were flooded, temporarily blocking traffic.

The storm caused a 10-minute power failure at the Harrisburg Patriot-News Building and the surrounding area.

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Ex-King Peter II of Yugoslavia rushed from Paris to his estranged wife's hospital bedside and visited her twice Tuesday.

His wife, 42-year-old Princess Alexandra of Greece, regained consciousness Tuesday for the first time since taking an overdose of sleeping pills Sunday and whispered, "I'm glad to be alive." She was reported out of danger.

She was expected to remain in the hospital for at least 10 days.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

PARTNERS: The United States and Soviet Union will team up this year at the South Pole to try to learn more about cosmic rays, the high energy particles that bombard the earth.

The National Science Foundation, helping to finance the study, announced Tuesday that antenna towers 105 to 190 feet high will be put up at three U.S. antarctic stations and at one or two Russian installations.

The idea is "to detect distinct solar cosmic ray events and to investigate their variations in energy, time and location."

The foundation said other nations may also join in the study later.

STAY AND SAVE: To help keep dollars from traveling—and staying—abroad, Rep. Al Ullman would like Americans to do their traveling at home next year.

The Oregon Democrat announced Tuesday he had introduced legislation to designate 1964 as "See America Year."

Tourist dollars spent in the United States, said Ullman, would "help solve a crucial problem in our balance of payments."

NO DEAL: The State Department has indicated it would thumb down a reported Soviet proposal for a German peace treaty that would leave that nation divided.

A report from Moscow quoted a West German parliamentary leader, Thomas Dehler, as saying Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had suggested to him a treaty which would sanction the wall around Berlin as a border.

In reply to newsmen's questions, press officer Richard I. Phillips said the State Department isn't certain what Gromyko has in mind so cannot issue a formal comment.

"However," he added, "our position is well known with respect to a German peace treaty. We would sign a peace treaty only with a united Germany."

CEILING ZERO: The General Accounting Office has reported to Congress that a Navy error cost the government $1.1 million for altimeters that couldn't be used.

The Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics, the GAO said Tuesday, did not get approval for frequencies to be used for the radar altimeters and thus the device had to be completely redesigned.

The mistake was not discovered until development of the altimeters — for use on carrier-based planes — was well under way on a contract awarded in 1957, the GAO report said.

Labor Day Motor Toll Hits 557

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents in the nation during the extended Labor Day weekend killed 557 persons, a record for the holiday.

The death toll topped the previous high of 501 set last year. It also equaled the number of highway deaths reported during the four-day Independence Day celebration, which was a record for the holiday period. California led all states in the Labor Day holiday traffic deaths with 61.

The nation's traffic deaths from Jan. 1 to Aug. 1 totaled 22,930, a record for the period and an average of about 110 a day. The National Safety Council said the number of fatalities during a non-holiday weekend at this time would total 360.

When U.S. Army officers attempted to meet Svenson they couldn't locate him, the spokesman said.

The Asian-African group demanded Tuesday that the Assembly debate the Buddhist question as a priority issue.

JOHN M. DAVIS LED INTO LAW BY HIS FATHER

By LEE LINDER
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John Morgan Davis, nominated to be a federal judge in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, became a lawyer because it was his father's secret passion.

The 56-year-old Davis, named Tuesday to the bench by President Kennedy subject to confirmation by the U.S. Senate, is a former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania who once nurtured political ambitions to be chief executive of the Commonwealth and-andor mayor of Philadelphia.

However, he now says, ending his public career in the service of justice is the pinnacle of success.

DAD'S INFLUENCE

"The law is my life and I am happy to serve it," Davis commented on his appointment to succeed the late Judge Thomas C. Egan who died last year.

Davis, pink-cheeked and round-faced with a figure a tailor would describe as a stylish semitout, said his Dad "wanted to be a lawyer but because of economic circumstances never could afford it."

"It is true," he adds, "that my Dad's influence led to my career as a businessman's attorney."

WAS RADIO ANNOUNCER

Born in Shenandoah, Pa., and educated in Reading, Pa., public schools, Davis worked his way through the University of Pennsylvania—as a radio announcer (WCAU-Philadelphia) and a file clerk in a law office. He supplemented his income with a state senatorial scholarship.

The bench is not new to him. Before he was elected the Keystone State's No. 2 executive in 1958 he had served nearly seven years as a Philadelphia Common Pleas Court judge. Attorneys regarded him then as fair, always objective, a stickler for the letter of the law.

Davis, a Democrat, refrained from seeking the party's gubernatorial nomination in a primary battle last year because he is an organization man. This loyalty helped him get his new job.

Now, as a judge, he considers himself out of politics although he believes the Democrats will regain the Statehouse in 1966 because the party has "the interests of the people at heart."

Postpones School Opening

McKinley To Miss Davis Cup Match

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Chuck McKinley drops off the United States' Davis Cup team for the American Zone final against Venezuela and will be replaced by Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y.

Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif.; Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill.; and Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., continue as team members. Davis Cup Committee Chairman W. Harcourt Woods announced Tuesday.

McKinley, the Wimbledon champion and the top-seeded player in the United States, had told non-playing captain Robert Kelleher previously that he would be unable to play in the matches against Venezuela because of previous commitments.

STORM WHIRLS AT ST. MARY'S MONDAY NIGHT

ST. MARY'S, Pa. (AP)—A violent storm, described by the Weather Bureau as an unconfirmed tornado, whirled along the outskirts of this town Tuesday, killing livestock, ripping off roofs and knocking house trailers and railroad cars about like toys.

Despite the severity of the storm, Andrew Kaul Memorial Hospital said only one person was injured badly enough to be admitted while eight or ten others were treated for minor injuries then were released.

Mayor Regis Weinveril estimated the damages would total several million dollars.

KILLED 14 COWS

State police said the storm is believed to have originated near Ridgway, travelled northeast toward Johnsonburg then turned southeast and skirted the business and residential sections of St. Marys before inflicting damage in Benninger Twp.

Henry Foster, who owns a farm along the St. Marys-Johnsonburg Road, said the storm picked up 14 of his cows and flung them to the ground. All were killed.

At a trailer camp, the winds picked up a house trailer and carried it about three quarters of a mile before it hit a house and knocked it off its foundation. No body was in the trailer or house at the time.

HOUSES SMASHED

Another house trailer was overturned, and the windows and doors of nine others were blown out.

Near the trailer court, a large tree was yanked out of the ground and smashed against a house. Lewis Jeter and his family were on the porch, but they weren't hurt.

The winds overturned four empty freight cars on a Pennsylvania Railroad siding and knocked over about 20 tombstones in two cemeteries.

Siding was ripped from homes, and telephone and electric lines were torn down. Tree limbs also were scattered about roads in the area.

The Bakers also received some encouragement from an unsigned telegram to them that read: "Don't give up hope—the decent people of Delmar Village are behind you."

The Bakers moved into Delmar Village amid violent demonstrations last Thursday and Friday.

SEE CHANGE IN MOSCOW VIEW
ON RED BLOC

By BORIS BOSKOVIC
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Premier Khrushchev's tour of Yugoslavia has convinced many here that Moscow has changed its strategy for dominating the Communist world.

In every speech, Khrushchev insistently argued the necessity and advantages of economic cooperation among Communist countries.

Students of Communist affairs believe a primary goal of Khrushchev's visit was to draw Yugoslavia into closer economic ties with the Soviet Union and other countries of the Eastern bloc.

GREAT CHANGES
In Stalin's day, Moscow controlled its satellites and other communist parties by tough discipline. The situation has greatly changed in the past few years.

The loss of economic independence would mean the restoration of Moscow's political domination.

Orange and onion salad is great with roast chicken, turkey or duck. Serve the fruit and vegetable combination (sliced thin) on mixed greens and top with ripe olives, pimiento or capers. At the table mix the salad with French dressing, salt (if needed) and freshly-ground pepper.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION
After 33 years of successful business, I am happy to announce that I have sold my business known as The Anna Bierer Specialty Shop to Mrs. Mary Edith Bushman, who has been associated with me for 14 years.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks and appreciation to all of my many friends and patrons. It has truly been a pleasure to serve you and I hope that you will continue to patronize my successor who will give to you the same courteous service.

TIME RUNS OUT FOR ALSO-RANS

NEW YORK (AP)—Time is running out for the St. Louis Cardinals in their quest to overtake the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The clock has just about stopped for the third-place San Francisco Giants, and the Chicago White Sox, runners-up to pace-setting New York in the American League.

The magic number for the Yankees is 13. For the Dodgers it's 19. GAMES NEEDED

Here's what it would take to make their leads disappear: If the White Sox win all 24 remaining games, it would give them 102 victories. The Yankees need to win only 13 of 23 to make it 103.

If the Cardinals win all of their 24 games, their winning total at season's end would be 102. The Dodgers have 24 games left and would have to collect 19 victories to eliminate St. Louis.

If the Giants win all 23 on their schedule it would put their total at 98. The Dodgers would have to win only 15 to eliminate the defending NL champions.

Champion Celtics Get Willie Naulls

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Naulls, veteran forward who came to the San Francisco Warriors from New York last year, was dealt today to the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association.

The Celtics gave San Francisco an unannounced sum of cash and a future draft choice for the former UCLA star.
